	2025-05-05 09:53:04	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	Why does the government not open a bank account for the NHI. Then every one who supports it can pay into it. I do not support it because I know the fraud and money mismanagement is going to be huge.	Western Cape		Rocco	retired
	2025-05-05 03:27:58	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	The greatest concern is that the finances will be controlled by cadres... and the NHI will be milked until yet another government led institution will be bankrupted and robbed by politicians.	Eastern Cape		Trevor	employed individual
	2025-05-04 23:02:08	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	Until we have properly run public hospitals in South Africa and the funding, NHI is unsustainable. Even the UK cannot afford NHS. Govt cannot manage large entities, funds will be stolen. Which SOE is currently being managed properly and making a profit? At the moment public hospitals are free for those who cannot pay ... but millions in funds are looted eg Tembisa. How will this be prevented? NSFAS etc all looted. Corruption everywhere. Cannot trust ANC.	Western Cape		Marje	retired

	2025-05-04 13:01:25	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	If this comes to fruition all of our "decent" doctors will be leaving the country,so the government will be shooting themselves in the foot.Idiotst!	Gauteng		Donald	retired
	2025-05-04 08:50:04	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	The anc minister cannot be in control.Select an independant person with the necessary experience and qualifications.	North West		Hannes	retired

	2025-04-28 23:13:41	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	The minister of health has too much power, so there will be no transparency. Also the NHI will not work in South Africa as there are no funds to even maintain the current health system now.	Free State		Belinda	retired
	2025-04-28 22:36:09	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	There are far too few taxpayers to support NHI. Our provincial hospitals are not functional. Our health system will collapse. Whoever is supporting the proposed NHI are delusional. This is preposterous	KwaZulu-Natal		Louise	retired

	2025-04-28 00:27:14	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	The government does not have a budget to serves the current liabilities. Now you want to create more corrupt burden on the fiscal. Please focus on basic services. You are not prioritising the most basic service delivery. Now you propose to spend more money. First get your current budget to be realistic.	Mpumalanga		Jan Erasmus	business owner
	2025-04-27 21:26:34	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	Just another cash cow for the anc to plunder , more doctors will leave the country because their practices will be plundered, hospitals will be forced to accept anyone and will become useless just like the government hospitals	Gauteng		Catherine	retired
	2025-04-27 11:01:28	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel		KwaZulu-Natal		Pat	retired
	2025-04-26 15:54:20	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	Is not realistic. State run hospitals must be fix and a small amount has to been paid by the patients. Children a free	Western Cape		Helga	self-employed

	2025-04-26 10:11:19	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	This government is corrupt and not trusted to act in the interests of the people. There should be an independent body to oversee all their actions.	Gauteng		Jane	retired

	2025-04-25 18:50:33	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	Government should have no say in the appointment of board, ceo, or any other positions. Would just be cadre appointments and yet another SAA, Eskom, etc. Whole idea should not even be considered.	KwaZulu-Natal		Anne	employed individual
	2025-04-25 16:31:01	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	I just see another attempt to make us taxpayers pay for everyone else, while the government fatcats continue to eat at the trough. Times are already difficult in our country and now they expect us to fund this hair brained idea just to get votes for the ANC. And this committee is obviously going to be used to bring in yet more BEE for the comrades.	Gauteng		Allan	self-employed
	2025-04-25 16:16:21	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	It will be abuse of power by the minister of health. Should be totally independent	Western Cape		Elize	employed individual
	2025-04-25 16:14:22	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	The Government is trying to fix the broken public health system by breaking a private health care system that is fully functional. There are many ways to fix the public health system with assistance from the private sector, without wanting to control everything.	Eastern Cape		Cheryl	employed individual
	2025-04-25 15:51:33	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	The nhi is simply another feeding trough for the corrupt ANC. It is irrational ill-conceived and unworkable. In every respect.	Gauteng		Graham	retired

	2025-04-25 12:20:43	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	This NHI should be scrapped in its entirety. There is no need for NHI in a country already faced with rampant corruption and incompet, lazy people. This is just another quick money - making scheme to fill the pockets of anc and its cadres. Fix government hospitals that are in a terrible state. Appoint the correct people in all key positions, problem solved.	Gauteng		Claudette	retired

	2025-04-24 19:42:04	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	Our government hospitals are run down, understaffed, overcrowded and most places dangerous to go to. If stuff has been kept updated and maintained over the years different story. You can not take something in such disrepair and try fix it with yet another ill thought out plan. Just like the toll road and many other projects not implemented properly this will cost the tax payers of sa billions again	Gauteng		Debbie	employed individual
	2025-04-24 19:14:12	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	Too many SOE to miss manage, government cannot keep the current soes running and now they want another.	Western Cape		Julius	employed individual
	2025-04-24 19:03:56	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	Too many panels to fund besides the actual fund itself , that's even before NHI takes off. So where's the funding from.	KwaZulu-Natal		Nissa	retired

	2025-06-07 08:20:55	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	South Africa could never afford it. The ANC has already stolen too much money & have no clue how to control anything. Personal taxes would also need to be unrealistically increased to begin to support it.	Gauteng		Richard

	2025-06-05 23:32:50	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	This will allow there to be corruption and mismanagement like everything else in SA! Hard working taxpayers will have to fund this abomination that is called NHI! Our country can not afford this! It did not work in any other country, why would in work here??????? 	2025-05-28 18:52:29	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	No, I do not support NHI, this will just be another cash cow for anc and its cadres, imagine the looting frenzy that will take place. The anc must focus on fixing the hospitals and clinics we already have Employ competent nurses, doctors, and admin staff based on merit, and not on loyalty to the party. We have had enough of the looting, it has to stop now. Do what is right for SA and the citizens for once in your lives.	Gauteng		Claudette	retired
	2025-05-28 16:12:20	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	Fix the current hospitals and start recruiting nurses and doctors for these facilities. Send investigating staff into the hospitals with powers to stop all the stealing happening there. Reopen and staff claimics with competent staff to act as triage centres so that minor cases are treated quickly before becoming massive issues. Cut the taxes on medicines across the board so people can afford proper meds.	Western Cape		Lorna	retired

	2025-05-16 08:51:46	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	The concern is not with the principle of universal healthcare, which is noble and necessary, but with the capability of the South African government to implement it fairly, transparently, and effectively. Given: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - The collapse or dysfunction of major SOEs, - The dire state of public hospitals, - The risks of politicization and centralization, - And the lack of clarity on cost, structure, and accountability, The NHI in its current form is doomed to fail, not because the idea is flawed, but because the execution is likely to mirror other government failures. Why not first prove that your execution plan is working with state hospitals? If you can save state hospitals and improve healthcare there, then it will already be a big win, but you won't because there is no money to steal there, so again, the taxpayers must jump in for the incompetence of the ANC government. This along with Expropriation without compensation will be the final blow the the economy. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - SA is already in unimaginable debt - Pushing away any foreign investments and businesses due to the expropriation act - Pusing away current taxpayer workforce by leaving no other choice but to immigrate taking all their money and investments with them. Healthcare, safety and human rights. ALL of this has been butchered under the ANC's rule. South Africa is now in it's most vulnerable state, and it's a crucial point in history if we want to save SA. Now is the time for people to start standing up. Now is the time to show that people should decide what is best for SA, not government. Now is the time for strong leadership, something the ANC has not had for a long time.	Gauteng		Dewald	employed individual
	2025-05-15 21:07:03	No I do not	AdHoc advisory panel	How could I pay a lot of money for healthcare then going to a healthcare facility and people who do not have health care sitting there and getting the the care I pay for it's unconstitutional, that's why you have provincial hospitals , this is milking the system ,then parliamentarians should also sit and wait to get treatment in provincial hospitals ,and by the way no preference and no security	Western Cape		Linnie	retired

	2025-04-29 09:19:34	No I do not	The Board of the fund	It will never work..until government stops looting funds and providing proper medical care ,ie. Adequate medical staff in all medical fields, all the necessary medication, larger facilities and highly trained staff to maintain such a facility. This idea was only borne out of the fact that more tenders will come in enabling more ways to loot funds like the billions received for the covid PPEs that have gone astray with not a trace to date! 	2025-05-18 13:26:52	No I do not	The Board of the fund	We have too many medics who lack modesty and humility and are inexperienced and resent correction by medics who are more skilled and more experienced who are merely seeking to either, lift the standards of those as yet, without sufficient experience and accustomed to inferior conditions, or to maintain standards of care and knowledge. Some, too many, carry the title Dr as if that entities them to be presumptuous &makes their judgment, assessment infallible. These traits lead to lack of laboratory tests, lack of Xrays, Scans etc The number of erroneous diagnoses must be immense given the fact that these aids to accurate diagnosis are considered inferior to those of the arrogant, inexperienced young medics own superficial human eye vision inexperien The type above prefer to drive around in top range Mercs, BMWs, Audis, Landrovers etc.. Walk Giv hospital parking lots. They p bank balances & social images above all, not their duty &knowledge& care of patients & the thoroughness they should, but mostly don't, apply to the investigation into the health of the patients. I certainly would never choose to have any medical procesdure, operations especially, carried out in an SA Gov hospital where ethics are not understood by so many & the Hippocratic Oath is not respected &is merely muttered as part of a process if at all. First do no harm...is an unknown factor to all too many & the salary they get, despite incompetence, is all that they r interested in. Few probably enter the profession , with the sentiments with which generations before them have done i.e. to serve humanity, to heal the sick, to alleviate suffering where possible, WITHOUT first considering the money they would receive for doing that work. Furthermore, the health care system in South Africa has broken down in the last 30 years due to corruption and poor service delivery. The residents will just be burdened with more taxes and costs for something in which the ANC has shown it's gross incompetence and corruption. South Africans already pay taxes for a broken health care system not only for our citizens but for all the foreigners who cross our borders. Get the present government health care system working where people have the confidence that they will be given good service delivery, competent nursing and better health by government. 	2025-05-04 20:07:36	No I do not	Other	The introduction of a NHI is like all other similar strategies to allow the government to be funded from other sources than taxes. The NHI will also fall apart financially and so the trip downhill does not change, it only picks up speed. The government decided how to change institutions and staff in schools, hospitals, SAA, Escom, Police, etc. and should no longer be accommodated to continue with their various forms of abuses. They dug their own hole and helping them out by using more public/private funding is not going to encourage ending incompetence and gross misconduct. On the contrary, giving them what they want, "ownership" and control of public/private funds is only going to encourage continuation of the situation. At the same time, the hospitals and medical services under NHI are only going to add to declining and absence of medical services. This approach is certainly not a democratic one either as it does not protect the individualism of the citizens to make own decisions to be competitive and it is certainly not democratic to allow a government to have control of citizens in this manner. 				The NHI cannot work. The minister is living in a dream world devoid of any actual fact of he believes it can work. The simple facts are as follows: (1) The Government has a disastrous history of health care management. Hospitals and clinics and state run health care has declined every decade since 1994. Those facts even the Government has acknowledged at various times in the past few years. More importantly, the citizens know it. All of us. (2) South Africa does not have even the miminum requirements set by the WHO for a Healthcare system : We have far below the minimum number of doctors, nurses and hospital beds per 1000 people, as set by the WHO. Our medical professionals have left RSA in droves over the past 30 years, mostly because of the harrowing working conditions of the average state hospital. We have over 200,000 nurses alone, working outside of RSA. THIS IS THE DIRECT RESULT OF GOVERNMENTS FAILURE TO RUN THE STATE HEALTH SYSTEM TO ANY MINIMUM ACCEPTABLE LEVEL. (3) We need to be building and EQUIPPING NEW hospitals every month, just by catch up. We aren't doing that. Even if we could, and even of we had the billions to equip them, WE DON'T HAVE THE DOCTORS AND NURSES TO STAFF THEM!!!! WAKE UP. MINISTER AND PLEASE DO YOUR HOMEWORK!!! THIS PROJECT OF YOUR IS DOOMED TO FAILURE. And I as a taxpayer and sick and tired of paying for your consistent and ill Planned "political projects". There is a very simple concept at work here. It applies to almost very thing in life: NUMBERS DON'T LIE. Go and check the numbers. It cannot work, no matter how many promises you make and no matter what your so called expert advisers are telling you. The numbers just don't work. Governments are by definition parasitic organisations. They consume only. They do not and cannot create jobs. They do not and cannot create industry or business. They do not and cannot create wealth. What they can do use legislation to create an environment that fosters new business and industry

It is also highly questionable whether the NHI as proposed can ever be successful given the abysmal failure in the management of public hospitals and clinics, which are also hopelessly underfunded, the inability to provide adequate and services because of understaffing, and the propensity for the politically driven choices of Cuban training of doctors, and the use of Cuban doctors while South African trained doctors are ignored. 	2025-04-28 13:39:21	No I do not	Other	My concern with all of this is that the ANC and their cronies have established advisory and other committees before to ensure transparency and honesty, but have managed to circumvent or completely ignore them anyway. Hence, they will do the same here. All the supposed tax money collected that is meant for NHI will be frittered away just like the R500 billion covid relief, and the many more trillions of Rands they have managed to steal from the public purse, despite their being legislation to prevent such theft. And then they will elect another committee to investigate the corruption within the NHI, and that commission, like the Zondo commission before it, will find all sorts of illegal activity and that report will be buried in the same hole where the Zondo commission report is currently. If the ANC is involved, there will be corruption, theft, greed and all sorts of illegal stuff and no committee or checks and balances put in place will make a blind bit of difference, because the ANC DOES NOT RESPECT OR CARE FOR THE LAW. They are self serving, greedy, arrogant, egotistical thieves who line their pockets at the expense of the South African people and the NHI will be no different. 	2025-04-28 08:43:59	No I do not	Other	How will it be funded? There are not enough taxpayers, South Africa has one of the highest unemployment rates in the world. Also, State hospitals and clinics are in a shocking state with broken equipment and inadequate staffing, people die in hospital passages waiting for treatment, so how on earth can NHI possibly work? All government institutions have furthermore been shown to be largely corrupt, with taxpayers money stolen. The NHI will be the same. And forcing private doctors to treat State patients at reduced rates will only hasten the current trend of doctors leaving SA. NHI will result in worse-off health care in general. It's unbelievably shocking and concerning how the government even passed the NHI Bill, given the facts and evidence. It was merely an election ploy to get voters to vote for the ANC, and the ANC has ruined SA. 				I have a concern that there is no separation between the state and the NHI. Those appointments are made by a state official. Therefore, how do we know these individuals have the public's best interest at heart? Who then negotiates their salaries, or do they get to decide this themselves? This will further influence the amount of tax levied on individuals, which we cannot afford. I am worried that this fund being controlled by individuals with their own agendas might lead to problems further down the line. Maybe we should fix the state hospitals by making them fire compliant, ensuring buildings are up to code, increasing knowledgeable staff and their salaries, and providing necessary items for these current hospitals and clinics to run before changing the whole system.	Gauteng		Kimberly	employed individual

				NO – I do not support the proposed NHI governance regulations. These draft regulations pose a serious threat to transparency, accountability, and good governance. They grant excessive and unchecked power to the Minister of Health, enabling political interference at every critical level of the NHI Fund's governance structure. The fact that the regulations are based on legislation that hasn't even been proclaimed is legally and procedurally highly questionable. This premature move undermines public trust and suggests an attempt to rush through a framework without proper democratic oversight. Key concerns include: The Minister will oversee all major appointments, from the advisory panel and board to the CEO and committee members. This centralisation of authority eliminates checks and balances. The so-called "ad hoc advisory committee" – which should serve as a safeguard – is itself appointed by the Minister, making it a rubber-stamping exercise rather than an independent body. The NHI Fund, which will control billions in public funds, is being shaped to function under political control, not professional independence. This sets the stage for corruption, mismanagement, and capture. Public participation is rendered meaningless if decisions are funneled through one political office. South Africa deserves a health system that is equitable, transparent, and insulated from political manipulation. If the government is truly committed to improving healthcare for all South Africans, it must design a governance model rooted in independence, integrity, and public accountability — not one that concentrates power in a single political office.

	2025-06-11 08:55:33	No I do not	Other	The government cannot even manage their own hospitals properly, never mind the entire health insurance system of the country. By removing the option of private health insurance will literally kill people, because the services of government institutions are despicable and not managed effectively. This is just a way that the government is attempting to channel funds that are currently directed into private institutions into their own pockets without even a consideration of the effect it will have on the health, and access to healthcare for the people who make use of the private health insurance companies.	Gauteng		F	business owner
	2025-06-11 08:37:14	No I do not	Other	Objection to the Proposed Governance Regulations of the National Health Insurance (NHI) Act I strongly object to the proposed regulations for establishing the governance structure of the National Health Insurance (NHI) Act, particularly the nomination process for the NHI Board. While diversity and inclusivity are important, the proposed approach prioritises broad representation over merit-based selection and could result in a board lacking the necessary depth of healthcare governance, financial oversight, and operational experience to manage a system as complex and critical as the NHI. The inclusion of nominations from trade unions, employer bodies, and civil society groups—regardless of their direct experience in health systems management—risks politicising the board and diluting the technical expertise essential for the NHI’s success. A healthcare board of this magnitude must be comprised primarily of individuals with proven competence in health policy, actuarial science, public finance, and systems administration. Representation must not come at the expense of capability. Furthermore, the process lacks safeguards to ensure independence, transparency, and accountability. There is a real danger the board could become a vehicle for political patronage rather than a professional body committed to evidence-based and fiscally responsible health governance. If the NHI is to gain public trust, its leadership must be unimpeachable, independent, and free from undue influence—especially given the significant power it will wield. In conclusion, I urge the Minister of Health to revise the regulations to prioritise competence, integrity, and independence in the nomination and appointment of the NHI Board. A credible national health system cannot be built on politicised structures—it must be rooted in merit, transparency, and the public good.	Gauteng		Vishal	employed individual

	2025-06-10 14:28:16	No I do not	Other	I have had the misfortune of having had various first hand experiences of patient treatment in a provincial governmet hospital and it was definitely NOT what is to be expected from a hospital or the health care practitioners who "work" there. The treatment is horrendous, communication with patients supremely minimal, shortage of medicine and/or necessary equipment rampant, poor management of personnel on any shift, maintaining of minimal hygiene standards doubtfull and basic care from nursing staff id non existent. It is not my place to say that there's not enough money for the NHI but looking at the current situation and conditions in government hospitals in general I have huge and valid question marks about the proposed NHI. It's a nice plan that's also, like so many others made by the ANC, not going to work. It is going to cost the rather small number of existing tax payers a great deal of money that no one can readily afford. I unequivocally say NO to the NHI. Rather step up the quality of management, service and professionalism at the current government hospitals and have people take pride and responsibility in and for their work. Simply to counter that this will not happen is to play the ostrich with its head in the sand. The State Capture Reports by Justice Zondo twll us all we need to know about how government has used a variety of state initiatives to siphon off funds. 2. Civil society and concerned parties (including madical aids, various medical co-ops and others) have come up with viable implementable alternatives which will serve the same goal of serving all the citizens of SA - BUT have been TOTALLY ignored. Why does the government rush into legislation which will inevitably be challenged in court because it is so POORLY PLANNED and WORDED? Why does it not wait for civil society and all interested parties or invite them in, when there is a common concern and a BETTER WAY of achieving this goal? 3. Every citizen should have access to decent health care; at least much better than what the present government is giving its citizens and this is a CRIME if one considers that even Apartheid (a crime against humanity) offered better care than this government (statement from local BLACK people). 4. The governing structures and Board etc. are so centralised one could mistake this for a MARXIST idea. 	2025-05-12 20:29:28	No I do not	Other	I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed National Health Insurance (NHI) scheme. While the goal of universal healthcare is commendable, the current NHI model raises several concerns: Financial Sustainability: The NHI's funding model lacks clarity, raising questions about its long-term viability. Implementing such a system without a transparent and sustainable financial plan could strain the country's economy and lead to increased taxation without guaranteed improvements in healthcare services. Impact on Private Healthcare: The NHI proposes significant changes to the role of private medical schemes, potentially limiting options for those who currently rely on private healthcare. This could lead to longer wait times and reduced quality of care, as the public system may become overburdened. Governance and Implementation: There are concerns about the government's capacity to effectively manage and implement the NHI, given past challenges in public healthcare administration. Without robust governance structures and accountability mechanisms, the risk of mismanagement and corruption increases. Legal and Constitutional Issues: The NHI has faced legal challenges questioning its constitutionality, particularly regarding the centralisation of healthcare services and the exclusion of certain private healthcare options. These challenges could delay implementation and create uncertainty within the healthcare sector. In light of these concerns, I urge policymakers to reconsider the current NHI proposal and engage in broader consultations with stakeholders to develop a more balanced and sustainable approach to achieving universal healthcare. Based on past behavior, the minister will only appoint uneducated cadres to the NHI board who will get great salaries and do very little except make sure the money meant for NHI goes into their greedy little hands and pockets, the tenderpreneurs pockets, and ANC NEC members pockets. The biggest problem is that they will enslave medical professionals and remove all their options of free choice as to who to treat, who not to treat, when to treat, what to charge, how to accept payment, and how to not accept payment. This entire fiasco in the making is illegal, unconstitutional, and just another way to take all the medical money away from those working long and hard for it. All state hospitals are in disarray and being vandalised or burned down by public servants and striking workers etc... So the ANC wants 20% of the population to work and support 80% of the people... An NHI type system is based on a minimum of 80% tax payer base in the said country and 80% of businesses or companies paying all their taxes. Over here, TAX REVOLT it will be, because we all know what happens to our taxes..... This NHI is a black hole of immense proportions where corruption and embezzlement will reach absolute unseen new heights. How can this NHI fix any of the decomposed health services in South Africa... Hospitals being burned down by staff, Hospital property being sold by staff and politicians, Hospital patients being sold to entities where politicians have a vested interest etc etc etc all for lining their own pockets HOW CAN THEY MAKE THIS WORK ????? >>>> It will affect your revenue as TAXES will jump up by at least 30% for those who actually pay taxes. 10 million people out of 60 million! How can a national health care system work when the tax payer base is shrinking and the amount of taxable business and revenue is shrinking or simply being chased out of the country? How can this be sustainable when you have 33% unemployment official figures? How can this work when the beneficiaries of social grants exceed the number of tax payers, 27 million people !??! 	2025-05-30 10:29:10	No I do not	Definitions	Against the whole bill. We do not want to be restricted to specific hospitals and doctors or have the government tell us what treatment we require or allowed to have. We do not want the government to LIMIT our treatments and restrict us from paying for treatments if required. We do not want the government to be the SOLE provider of treatments/operations etc and assign the doctors/specialists/hospitals etc. This is another money making scheme from the ANC and preparing us for communism rule. The public sector needs to be managed properly as enough taxes are assigned to Health but this is just mismanaged and/or stolen. Foreigners are provided free healthcare on our taxes so the idea that there is not enough money is not true. Foreigners should have a travelling insurance or arrange payment for their services or their government must compensate us. 	2025-04-28 18:10:54	Not fully	Definitions	Menu Newsroom Speeches Straight Talk Where We Govern 50 Reasons why the NHI will never work Issued by Michele Clarke MP – DA Shadow Minister of Health 10 May 2023 in News Today the parliamentary portfolio committee on health concluded its clause-by-clause deliberations on the National Health Insurance (NHI) Bill. It should come as no surprise that the ANC members in committee refused to effectively engage with the content of the Bill, as well as the concerns and contributions of opposition party members in the committee and opposing legal opinion provided by the independent Parliamentary Legal Services. The DA voted against the Bill with an overwhelming number of objections, with the Bill so poorly formulated that there was only one course of action to take – object to the entire Bill in its totality. With that in mind, the DA has compiled 50 reasons why the NHI will never work: South Africa is physically and financially not able to finance the NHI in its current model. By increasing taxes on the already shrinking tax base, we will see a large emigration of fed-up taxpayers, leading to even less funding. The South African Medical Association (SAMA) has confirmed that the implementation of NHI will see hundreds of doctors emigrating overseas to avoid the NHI. The Office of Health Standards Compliance (OHSC) is struggling to inspect and accredit health facilities in a timely manner as is and will not be able to accredit every healthcare provider for the purposes of the NHI. The OHSC has confirmed that only the Western Cape and Gauteng have scored sufficiently to become accredited service providers should the NHI come into operation. The NHI would give the Minister far too many powers and duties – he would essentially run the day-to-day business of the Fund rather than have oversight responsibilities. The Bill also allows the Health Minister unvetted powers to make far-reaching health regulations without necessary oversight. 	2025-05-05 10:16:53	Not fully	Definitions	There is too little know about the implementation and funding for the NHI. Our hospitals and clinics are a disaster. Staff are not interested in patient care, they are overloaded therefore rude and inconsiderate towards the sick and elderly. There is too much theft and corruption in the health sector so only the government officials will benefit from the NHI not the patients. There is no money for the current hospital, they are understaffed and always have a shortage of medication so I dont see this working unless we have a competent government nothing is going to work, Just more theft will take place. Sort this out first. The NHS in the UK is collapsing and they are a first world country, how can we even consider this in our poor country. It would have been a wonderful idea if it was financially viable but it is not due to our corrupt government and its lack of performance and understanding of the money they steal and waste. It will become another haven for Cadre deployment and looting. The NHI structures must, by necessity, be developed by the people who will be paying for it... I.E. the public, and the public must oversee every sphere of the administration... in order to protect it from the government turning it into another slush-fund to be looted. This must be the beginning of a new dispensation the removes government from interference, by being the first public institution that the government cannot touch or influence... and then the rest of the previously looted and bankrupted SOE's be rescued from State capture and run by the public. The ANC has proved itself to be untrustworthy to run public institutions. If the taxpayer is paying for it, the taxpayers must manage and protect it, in its entirety, from the Marxist ANC government.	Gauteng		Bernard	unemploye d individual

I am almost 70, and I am a state pensioner and rely on my SASSA each month. I have comorbidities. All GP's (private) should be required to provide yearly testing of state persons at all entities. This would relieve the pressure on hospitals and allow the clinic sisters to provide a letter which can be produced to the doctor of choice.	Eastern Cape		Michele	retired

	2025-05-06 16:08:35	Yes I do	Other	My concern with the NHI is like any other relating to the state of affairs of this country. I'm unable to be concerned about the state of politics of this country, but not be concerned about its byproducts or outcomes, e.g BELA Bill and now NHI. However, this does not mean to pave the way forward for all South Africans and eventually all living on this continent; we are not going to start up initiatives that seem to address the long-standing destitution and inequality. If our democracy is truly the best in the world, why has no country adopted it, just like we'd adopted all other governing systems, like the Roman-Dutch Law, and call ours the Alkebulan Roman-Dutch Law, etc. I'm saying this to say, we, as the people of this country, can never find true liberation without addressing our past(History) to make our story(Ourstory) in this lifetime. Imagine we're past 30 years of Democracy, and it is only now that the governing party and stakeholders are looking to implement systems like the BELA Bill and NHI that address the pandemics of destitution and inequalities, etc. Instead, the few people who already hold this country's power are continuing with 'job as usual'. The dawn of Democracy may have had a tokenist attitude, but surely South of Africa til up to the rest of Alkebulan will eventually find its authentic Democracy, where everyone living on this continent receives a human-type of health care and if this means we take our chances with the now governing party to initiate this Bill so be it, otherwise it'll be ungodly to ever think of going back to the Exodus.
