	2025-08-05 17:56:13	No I do not	Other	Greenhouse carbon is a mith, i really do not believe in it.	Thys	Western Cape		business owner
	2025-08-05 18:11:04	No I do not	Other	So we have to pay extra taxes, but every squatter camp or informal settlement can burn as much plastic and rubber as they want to, day and night, and never need to worry about these taxes, but the average working person now has to finance yet another tax so that government officials can pocket even more of our hard earned money. It's disgraceful and should be embarrassing at the very least. However considering this is the same government who sides with Iran and Palestine, one can understand their totally twisted logic.	Terence	Gauteng		employed individual
	2025-08-05 18:23:21	No I do not	Other	It's a scam, to control and defraud the population.	Debbie	Eastern Cape		unemployed individual
	2025-08-05 18:24:19	No I do not	Other	Another form of taxation and laws that will strangle the current businesses into oblivion.	Warren
	2025-08-05 18:32:28	No I do not	Other	Weather world wide is manipulated using the HAARP machines aswell as incorrect and misleading reporting. Weather has been widely reported by influential s dentists who claim research shows exactly the opposite of what Soros etc would like populations to believe. So no it's another scam fostered by mainstream media.	Jenni
	2025-08-05 18:34:59	No I do not	Other	I don't believe they should have control and make laws	Elise	Eastern Cape		retired
	2025-08-05 18:39:39	No I do not	Other	There is no proof of human activity causing any changes to the atmosphere. Zero proof ! The whole exercise is purely a new form of taxation.	Barry	Western Cape		retired
	2025-08-05 19:01:40	No I do not	Other	All of this greenie nonsense is absolute bs ,its a giant money stealing IUndering scam of the moronic elites I am completely opposed to these proposed regulations.	Tiago	Western Cape		retired
	2025-08-05 19:19:16	No I do not	Other	South Africans doesn't need more 'restrictions or unnecessary expenses or penalties. The population as a whole is already over taxed and overworked. By allowing carbon regulations its just a matter of time before certain goods have a carbon tax e.g. electronics, alcohol, meat. People in townships already struggle to buy meat now we are paving the way for government to make a carbon excuse and to charge people more. More tax will only make our politicians fatter and lazier. Enforcing (mandatory) people to comply with carbon goals is one of the disgusting traits of communism, I dont doubt it will get to the point where government will dictate how much food your allowed to eat due to carbon emissions and goals. I am completely against the government telling me how much petrol I'm allowed to buy or use. Braai's and open fires for cooking will be made illegal.
	2025-08-05 19:28:58	No I do not	Other	This carbon crap must go back to the filth where it came out off.	Daniel
	2025-08-05 19:44:07	No I do not	Other	Taxing people more is NOT going to have any impact on the climate - unless you are God. Stop wasting tax payers money on BS and rather use that money to ensure that everyone in South Africa, has access to affordable, reliable energy!! Nobody can stop what is coming!!!	Rodney	Western Cape		retired
	2025-08-05 19:52:07	No I do not	Other	Climate change is a scam to control the population. Everything needs co2 to survive.	Kim	Gauteng		unemployed individual
	2025-08-05 20:14:39	No I do not	Other	Stop with all the cloud seeding, geo-engeneering and chemtrails, and your climate change BS will also stop. This is about implementing agenda 2030 and has nothing to do with the climate	Nigel
	2025-08-05 20:16:18	No I do not	Other	Stop with all the cloud seeding, geo-engeneering and chemtrails, and your climate change BS will also stop. This is about implementing agenda 2030 and has nothing to do with the climate	Geraldine
	2025-08-05 20:20:55	No I do not	Other	When geoengineering stops and fake science ceases to push ideology conjured up by unelected bureaucrats in far away countries, to feather their nests, not ours, only then can we reassess the whole climate change garbage. I will say that the air quality is horrendous, and it is allowed to get worse by this uncupulous government. NO TO THIS BILL. SOUTH AFRICANS CANNOT AFFORD IT.	Dawn	Gauteng
	2025-08-05 20:23:13	No I do not	Other	1. South Africa has much more important environmental issues to deal with than to try to influence the existence of a natural occuring gas (carbon). 2. There is no such thing as a climate emergency. Climate change is a natural consequence of our living planet circling the sun.	Irene	KwaZulu-Natal		retired
	2025-08-05 20:50:41	No I do not	Other	Dis alles net 'n klomp twak en 'n manier vir sekere mense om ryk te word ten koste van die gewone mense. Niemand kan meer ander se grille en giere bekostig nie!!!	Pieter	Western Cape		self-employed
	2025-08-06 01:35:30	No I do not	Other	Have you received money from Europe to push us into the climate change scam? The climate has always been changing. Over the 456 thousand millions of years of the earth's existance, there were always periods of cooling and warming. We are in a warming period now, but far less so than some of the past cycles, and history shows NO evidence of carbon emissions being the culprit. The more carbon, the better for all forms of life. We are dangerously close to having too little carbon.	Anel	Gauteng		retired
	2025-08-06 03:12:31	No I do not	Other	Do not be fooled by power-hungry globalist elite billionaires. Covid was their trial run, the biggest wealth transfer from poor and middle class to the uber rich. Next up is the climate scam. All it will accomplish, is more taxes. We, the people know what else is in the pipeline, and their end game of depopulation and total control, and we say: NO. WE DO NOT COMPLY. Clamate should change, it's natural for it to do so. Any attempts at modifying it through any means is unnecessary and criminal	Annemarie	Western Cape		retired
	2025-08-06 05:25:40	No I do not	Other	Climate has been changing for millions of years, it's supposed to	Nkululeko	Gauteng		self-employed
	2025-08-06 06:09:36	No I do not	Other	We are the carbon they want to get rid of	Felicity	Gauteng		retired
	2025-08-06 06:36:58	No I do not	Other	South Africa already has a struggling economy with unreliable power. This bill will lead to unnecessary expenditure and open up the way to greater energy instability and economic strain.	Renier	Gauteng		self-employed
	2025-08-06 06:55:30	No I do not	Other	Climate change is a WEF narrative to collect more money and create another form of robbing taxpayers. It's not a science but a collective scam like the pandemic. Until China and India are taken to task for omissions, they can go get fucked.	Lee	Western Cape		employed individual
	2025-08-06 08:17:14	No I do not	Other	When a minister has unfettered access to determine anything at his or her own whim, I will not support these regulations..	Arthur	KwaZulu-Natal		unemployed individual
	2025-08-06 08:35:13	No I do not	Other	Another way of stealing and corruption. Climate change is a hoax Climate change is a natural process that will continue despite regulations, taxes and lucrative contracts. Antarctic ice is increasing, storms and droughts will continue regardless. There is no reliable, unbiased proof that man influences climate change.	Tracy	KwaZulu-Natal		unemployed individual
	2025-08-06 08:45:49	No I do not	Other	Climate change is a hoax, a big fat lie. Stop Geo-engineering. Plant more trees. Stop using SA'ns as the guinea pigs for Agenda 21/30. If sea level was really rising, why are the most expensive properties, all over the world, on the beach front? Why are banks giving loans for these properties and not speaking up about it? Stop abusing positions to control the people. How much more poverty do you want to create? No eskom? No coal mining? No diesel? No petrol? But no problem to mine lithium for your batteries? No problem with the impact of wind turbines that destroy natural habitats? Climate change is a money making scam, the rich will become richer while they try to play God. Stop messing with nature, rather stop all the contracts given to companies that is on our coastline!	Edward	KwaZulu-Natal		retired
	2025-08-06 09:12:05	No I do not	Other	There is no evidence to support the idea of climate change and carbon being a contributor. Please view other climate websites other than IPCC. Informed decisions need to be made. The proposal is an unnecessary cost to the population.	Lyzelle			business owner
	2025-08-06 09:33:12	No I do not	Other	Carbon Dioxide induced climate change does not exist even according to the US Government in recent documents.	Mary-Ann	Gauteng		retired
	2025-08-06 09:36:52	No I do not	Other	Spending ANY money on this nonsense is essentially flushing it down the toilet... Except for the grifters of course. My top concern is government overreach. Climate change is a naturally occurring cycle and this regulation is simply an administrative power grab.	Barry	Gauteng		business owner
	2025-08-06 12:00:11	No I do not	Other	CO2 levels are at 0.04%, life is only threatened at 0.02% as plants won't be able to live, and so wouldn't be able to convert CO2 back into breathable oxygen - these levels have been much higher in the past, and the planet was much greener as well. This is Politrix BS !!!	Ryan	KwaZulu-Natal		business owner
	2025-08-06 12:14:42	No I do not	Other		Tim	Gauteng		employed individual
	2025-08-06 13:50:43	No I do not	Other	There is no human-induced climate change. CO2 does NOT cause climate change. CO2 levels in the atmosphere FOLLOWS temperature change. Do not live in the "climate catastrophe" bubble. Plenty of scientific evidence against it. Most of the "bad" news is false. No increase in fires, droughts, hurricanes or storms. Stick to the facts. Data, not opinions. Climate catastrophe is political, not scientific. Do not parrot the "climate catastrophe " narrative, do research before embarking on this expensive, economy destroying farce.	Helena Smith	Gauteng		retired
	2025-08-06 14:10:01	No I do not	Other	Climate change is a manufactured scam to enable the generation and collection of more taxes with absolutely no substantiating proof to verify such beyond hypothetical assumption.	Andries	KwaZulu-Natal		retired
	2025-08-06 17:04:13	No I do not	Other	There is no such thing as climate change. However , there is climate engineering.	Valda
	2025-08-06 17:11:09	No I do not	Other	The whole bill and anything related to "climate change" should be cancelled and scrapped. Stop implementing insane unfounded policies pushed by globalists to gain totalitarian government. Only insane people think they can halt climate change, it has been the case since this planet formed. Carbon dioxide is a trace gas and absolutely essential for life to exist on this planet. This planet does not need sponsored science and psychopathic rich people.	Frank	Gauteng		business owner
	2025-08-06 18:16:20	No I do not	Other	It's just a scam to TAX US even more with CARBON TAXES!! EVERYTHING will have a so-called CARBON FOOTPTINT that can be TAXED!! It's just a scheme to gather MORE MONEY from people who are ALREADY OVERTAXED and struggling financially! I condemn it in the strongest terms. Carbon is a GREEN GAS which makes the environment greener. Peatbogs which are GREEN are CARBON SINKS which ABSORB Carbon Dioxide from the atmosphere. "Climate Change" is nothing but a SCAM. When AGW (human induced global warming) proved to be false, the name was just changed to Climate Change to ensure that taxes could still be charged to the world's citizenry. Shame on you!	William	Western Cape		business owner
	2025-08-06 18:43:33	No I do not	Other		Norma	Western Cape		retired
	2025-08-06 19:29:44	No I do not	Other	Nothing more than another way to drain citizens by taxing them for what the weather does and has been doing since the beginning of life on this planet. Give me a break! This "climate change" claptrap needs to stop now. Politicians will screw us out of our last penny over this nonsense. The earth is a living organsm, it has been changing since day one and changing temperatures and climates are all part of it. This twaddle over there being a climate crisis is nothing more than a cash grab.	Jana	Mpumalanga		employed individual
	2025-08-06 19:29:44	No I do not	Other		David	Western Cape		self-employed

	2025-08-06 20:43:10	No I do not	Other	My concern is on this in totality. There is no such thing as climate change. The false narrative is just something to use against ordinary citizens to tax them dry. I predict your plan is to sell South Africa's coal to China and India as they are building coal power plants at a huge rate. So by selling to them and taxing us for using some as well, you are lining your pockets full. I can only drop my head in shame to see you proposing this regulation to punish and not use South Africa's natural resources to benefit the South African people. Shame on you! Please do not push this through. Even if the whole concept were true, how would South Africa even make a dent in telhe problem when the US and Asia are expanding oil and coal. Come on, use your brain and be realistic.	Alexander	Free State		employed individual

	2025-08-06 22:25:19	No I do not	Other	There no such thing as climate change. It s a man made norm and another form of tax.	Elsabe	Western Cape		unemployed individual
	2025-08-07 02:59:42	No I do not	Other	The climate change crisis is a pseudo-science scam, based on the rigged infamous "hockey stick" graph. This is a criminal endeavour.	Alfred	Eastern Cape
	2025-08-07 03:15:15	No I do not	Other	There is no climate emergency. Such a scam.	Linda	KwaZulu-Natal		retired
	2025-08-07 05:07:38	No I do not	Other	Stop the lies and stop the extensive GEOENGINEERING in South Africa and weather manipulation that causes high winds droughts and floods and poisons the soil ,before bothering with carbon credits. Stop selling out to the globalist oligarchs and look after the water sources and rivers . Get your priorities right!	Peter	Free State		business owner
	2025-08-07 05:44:12	No I do not	Other	Just another piggy bank for an inefficient, corrupt government to rob. Enormous unnecessary admin load on companies and individuals. God created the climate to change naturally within certain cycles. Encourage citizens to live clean, responsible lives and to respect Nature	Annelie	Limpopo		retired
	2025-08-07 11:12:55	No I do not	Other	Where is the climate change crisis? There is only 0.03% CO2 in the world's atmosphere. Mankind only contributes 11% of that 0.03% CO2 worldwide. Where is the problem? The UN can take there agenda and go peddle it somewhere else. We are not interested in the UN Agenda 2030.	Jean-Pierre
	2025-08-07 11:28:58	No I do not	Other	Everything in the "concern" falls into other. Climate change is a hoax. Consider deforestation, digging of ocean beds whilst mining for minerals to go "green"	Marcelle	Western Cape		unemployed individual
	2025-08-07 11:41:39	No I do not	Other	Climate change is a scam, the government elite will use the funds to enrich themselves.	John	KwaZulu-Natal		self-employed
	2025-08-07 13:11:39	No I do not	Other	CO2 does not have any effect on climate, go get educated maybe if you would of learnt geography you might not be such a gullible fool being conned by globalists, how much money did they promise you to kill millions of South Africans to run this scam, how about you educate yourself on what influences climate stop blaming humans to push your scam, are you a moron and you are a doctor in BS nothing else, poo ush your carbon scam and you will be held for crimes against humanity in the future if you go down this dystopian agenda path.	Tamas	Mpumalanga		retired
	2025-08-07 14:56:49	No I do not	Other	Any Volcanic eruption anywhere in the world puts more Carbon Dioxide in the atmosphere than 100 years of human extra contribution. The more CO2 in the air, the better our plants do, and the greener the planet will get, and more plankton will be available in the oceans to support more fish.
	2025-08-07 18:06:58	No I do not	Other	CO2, Climate Change and all other forms of so-called emergencies is just a way to add to taxes and gives more power to the already power hungry governments.	Hans	Mpumalanga		self-employed
	2025-08-07 19:21:08	No I do not	Other	Climate change is a hoax, have nothing to do with it.	Andrew
	2025-08-07 19:21:08	No I do not	Other	Why is a developing country participating in a First World dalliance? The economy needs to be freed up from the plethora regulations, not encumbered with further bureaucracy that adds absolutely no value. Stop appeasing the globalists!	Mike	Western Cape		retired
	2025-08-07 22:18:54	No I do not	Other	It is impossible to migrate to any form of economy when the basic financial economy doesn't function properly. Let's get that right first - stop the looting, stop the blatant theft, stop the gangsterism and violence and crime to encourage foreign investment into infrastructure and emoloyment. And then look at the impact of 'climate change'. No point in putting up the tiled roof when the walls are made of paper. It just won't hold. Get the basics right first. This policy is just icing on the cake, and South Africa's cake is far from baked and ready for icing.	Linda	Western Cape		employed individual
	2025-08-07 23:19:39	No I do not	Other	To whom it may concern, - We actually need more carbon dioxide, the gas of life. -If there was actual concern for the environment, there is enough legislation currently available which, if enforced on those who are polluting the environment, would be sufficient in curbing pollution. Start by cleaning up our disgusting waterways. Please. Show you actually care. - President Trump withdrew from the Paris Accord and called this whole drive the 'green new scam,' which according to scientists, it is. -Scientists say that there is no climate change. -We believe that there are nefarious reasons behind the UN drive for SDG's including control and crippling of economies. -There is no substantial evidence pointing towards the so called need for making life difficult for those trying to thrive, produce food, earn a living without implementing harsher requirements on an already broke-backed economy, by weighing it down further with ridiculous laws for a fake crisis. We do not consent.	Jenny	Gauteng		self-employed
	2025-08-08 14:35:36	No I do not	Other	We need more Co2 to get plants growing again, not some looting taxation that will only benefit fat politicians and billionaires who sell the "Green" narrative. One volcanic eruption kicks out more so called green house gasses than the last 6000 years of man made emissions	David	Western Cape		retired
	2025-08-08 22:20:37	No I do not	Other	CO2 is 0.04% of the worlds atmosphere - that's what I learned at school. I also learned that the more CO2 the greener the planet, the more bountiful food is. However, the global agenda is to tax and to control and using a trumped up climate change to instil fear to easily control the populations.	Sue	Western Cape		retired
	2025-08-09 17:48:56	No I do not	Other	Climate change is a natural phenomenon, it changes all the time. From ice ages to droughts! Blaming it on human emissions is a politically motivated ruse to impose more taxes and control on the population. Carbon dioxide makes up 0.041% of the earth's atmosphere and human emissions are estimated to be about 40% of that. To put that in perspective - one large volcanic eruption puts more CO2 into the atmosphere than all human emission combined for years. Without CO2 all plants will die and then ALL humans will die! So the concept of zero carbon is ludicrous! I call on the government to stop all carbon taxes and climate change regulations and concentrate on eliminating poverty and boosting the economy - things that will actually make a difference.	Patrick	Eastern Cape		business owner
	2025-08-10 06:35:17	No I do not	Other	I do not support the entire budget and regulation. This is to tax and control the people of South African and the world.	Wynand	Gauteng		employed individual

	2025-08-10 11:29:10	No I do not	Other	These regulations are just a method to control citizens. The kinate will akways vary and carbon dies not have to do anything with it. The taxes proposed is an attemp to kegally steal individuals money. Furthermore why should carbon taxes be implimented when we are exporting coal by the millions of tons and still adding more carbon by transporting it.	Gert	Gauteng		employed individual

	2025-08-11 09:40:24	No I do not	Other	Just another form of tax! Criminal that the Climate Accord was signed without the public's input and the evil, blatant exchange of funds to facilitate further control over the people. Every scientific report debunking 'Climate change' is ignored & kept from appearing in msm - can't risk having an educated public, right? Too Kate, most are aware of the evil unfolding with 'yes men' following orders & being rewarded for destroying civil society, the natural world and all that sustains life. 100% demonic	Lorelei
	2025-08-11 09:40:50	No I do not	Other	There is no duch thing as Climate Change - resourch proof earth is lower for the past century. This is control and extra tax	Nicolette	Gauteng		employed individual
	2025-08-11 09:52:26	No I do not	Other	There is NO CLIMATE CHANGE! The weather is being manipulated for their end gain!	Jeanette
	2025-08-11 09:54:06	No I do not	Other	South Africans will be made even poorer by this Marxist lie of the green new scam. Get us out of all these climate change related taxes that our Marxist government has predictably signed us up for. We do not want a global government and this a big step towards global government engaging in more taxation, social credit scoring and controlling the people generally. May their goals perish with them.	Michael	Mpumalanga
	2025-08-11 10:13:06	No I do not	Other	There's no such thing as climate change	Manie
	2025-08-11 10:13:27	No I do not	Other	Actually I don't agree with all of the above. There is no such thing as climate change . It's a man-made and NWO gimmick. 	2025-08-11 10:47:10	No I do not	Other	Carbon taxes and regulations are world wide scam. Carbon is only 0.04% of the Earth's atmosphere. 10 000 years ago it was only 0.03%. If the carbon goes below 0.02% all life on the planet ceases. More carbon is actually good, as it promoted greening and more tree/vegetation growth. Finally, the idea that carbon causes global warming all based theoretical models. Real evidence actually shows the Sun (you know, that giant ball of plasma) impacts global warming/cooling. Not carbon emissions. Also, we need less regulation in this country not more. And especially not to regulate based on bad science!	Nicolas	Free State		employed individual

	2025-08-11 12:45:39	No I do not	Other	Climate change theory is a 'sky is falling' issue cooked up to bring about more control mechanisms for the elites. 	2025-08-11 13:44:56	No I do not	Other	First off , no body gave you the right to go to Rio de Janeiro and sign Agenda 21. Governments don’t have the right to sign to depopulate and control people for the sake of the ' climate ' . You're liars. The only thing you want to do is get rid of people because you can do everything with AI and Robots. So get stuffed. We created this world , not you. You steal our work , our ideas and our hearts and use them against us. We are not your cattle. CO2 is plant food you door knobs. CO2 of 1 in 10000 molecules cannot change climate. It's colourless and so cannot absorb infrared. You're brain washed people through media to believe these lies and then you HAARP and microwave the atmosphere. You are the cause of ' climate ' change. You cloud seed , destroy the environment and then say it's us.	Nicholas	Mpumalanga		retired unemployed individual

The changes we are witnessing are part of the natural cycle of the Earth. This has happened in the past (way before us) and will continue to happen no matter how much we pay, no matter how little we breathe. If we were able to reach carbon zero, we would end up killing the trees and plants, as they depend on carbon. Yes we need to pollute less, for the wellbeing of all living things and ourselves. but reducing pollution won’t prevent the changes we are witness to now such as the tides, the huge storms etc We need to separate the two things (climate and pollution) as mixing both aspects is clashing. One of them, we can change and the other we can't.	Jacqueline	Western Cape		self-employed

	2025-08-06 16:20:33	No I do not	climate change	Earth's climate is controlled by the sun's activity and the sun (sunspots, coronal holes, filaments, coronal mass ejections and the cycles of the sun) and the consequent effects on the global electric circuit, cannot be changed or affected by what we do on earth. Blocking the sun's rays will cause more massive catastophic changes on earth that man will not be able to stop, mitigate, reverse or handle. Geoengineering and so called 'green energy' is already causing large shifts in weather patterns, due to removing energy from the atmosphere (surface and air temperature and wind power) which will have lasting negative consequences. 	2025-08-07 11:09:06	No I do not	climate change	More anti-carbon diktats would hammer South Africa exactly where it's already bleeding. Eskom's grid is 80 % coal-fired; forcing rapid "decarbonization" means either billions in forced early-retirement of plants—stranding debt the fiscus can't absorb—or massive capital flight to buy imported LNG and build unproven renewables that can't keep smelters, mines and factories running. Either way power prices leap, companies fold, jobs vanish, and the already-shrinking tax base collapses further. The taxes and penalties imposed will only make life more expensive and harder for people, especially the poor, while enriching globalist elites like the people attending the WEF, etc. These taxes and penalties will have no effect on the climate, especially as the money and power this plan proposes will land in the hands of the corrupt South African government that is notoriously famous for its corruption and mismanagement. 	2025-08-11 11:42:27	No I do not	climate change	Carbon Dioxide (co2) is not a pollutant as has been claimed by environmentalists. It is in fact a gas of life, like that of oxygen. Carbon dioxide is essential to the process of photosynthesis. Most plants grown indoors require a minimum CO2 concentration of 330 ppm to enable them to photosynthesise efficiently and produce energy in the form of carbohydrates. These concentrations of CO2 are enough for plants to grow and develop normally. Lower concentrations can seriously impede plant growth and general health. 	2025-08-20 15:18:40	No I do not	climate change	The climate change agenda is the biggest lie of the 21st century. Studies from ethical, uncorrupted, uncaptured researchers have proven that the earth's weather patterns are cyclical and has nothing to do with cow manure or carbon dioxide from human activities. It has everything to do with nefarious players who wish to weaponise and monetise a natural phenomenon against us. They are trying to cash in on something that is well beyond our powers to rectify, which creates a fantastic platform for money extortion (which is always what every politician is about). As it is, carbon dioxide levels are becoming dangerously low. If this stupid agenda is pushed further, many life forms could go extinct – us included. Weather manipulation, on the other hand, should be stopped immediately! A good place to start would be ceasing chemtrails. This should have been published together with the draft regulations. There is no scientific rational, and no risk assessment was done to inform the proposed measures. The proposed measures lack economic justification as they will add production costs and aid anticompetitiveness to our industry considering that other nations importing to us are not going to be forced to comply with such measures. 	2025-08-11 16:01:19	No I do not	carbon budgets	Carbon Dioxide (co2) is not a pollutant as has been claimed by environmentalists. It is in fact a gas of life, like that of oxygen. Carbon dioxide is essential to the process of photosynthesis. Most plants grown indoors require a minimum CO2 concentration of 330 ppm to enable them to photosynthesise efficiently and produce energy in the form of carbohydrates. These concentrations of CO2 are enough for plants to grow and develop normally. Lower concentrations can seriously impede plant growth and general health. In fact, a drop of 25% in natural CO2 concentrations can easily inhibit growth by over 50%. - source 2014 Canna Research Report.	Dawn	KwaZulu-Natal		unemployed individual
	2025-08-12 02:58:16	No I do not	carbon budgets	This bill is not intended to combat pollution nor climate change but rather to tax them. It is not intended to hinder megarich companies (that can buy their way to out to continue polluting rampantly), but rather to control and restrict average citizens from living on normally on this planet we all share. It is not intended to force the real culprits, often from certain other countries, to stop producing plastic and contaminants, nor to force companies to offer greener alterantives in the market place, but rather to punish the end consumer when they have no better options to choose from. I doubt this will reduce the carbon footprints of politicians and uberrich individuals from going about their "very important" work in private jets and 30-SUV strong convoys, but it will make everyone who is not considered elite equal in poverty and unable to ever escape. It is clearly a global agenda as this has not been considered for the African situation, let alone the South African situation. Eskom often burns more diesel than coal just to keep things running. The latest power plant is nowhere near complete and still won't keep up with the growing demand. The power outs across Portugal and Spain show the problems of relying too much on renewable energy, especially in cloudy seasons. Only the small fraction of rich South Africans have managed to install solar power and, although it takes some pressure off the grid, it is not nearly enough. This bill is thoroughly anti-poor and, quite honestly, anti-everyone.	Peter

For interest read Adam Welz, 'End of Eden - Wild Nature in the Age of Climate Breakdown' (note: not Climate change). Whether you think it a hoax or not, it can only benefit our environment and us all if something can be done to alleviate air pollution pumped into our atmosphere, toxic pollution from industries into our rivers, seas and land. That includes, to my mind, the plastic pollution that pervades - plastic pollution too, has an impact on the sequestration of carbon achieved by the ocean. So yes to attempts to offset and measures put in place for farming, mining, industrial and manufacturing companies to prevent this impact.	Lisl	Western Cape		self-employed

The uninformed and politically motivated comments listed here is disturbing. - make it clear that the idea of 'climate change' did not originate in South Africa, but has been investigated and is supported by international scientists. -good luck - the belligerence of some of the naysayers indicates a fear of change. 	2025-08-13 22:37:32	Yes I do	climate change	It is essential that South Africa commits to reducing carbon emissions immediately and takes all the necessary steps to proceed with a just transition to renewable energy in the country. Not doing enough to combat rising temperatures will have a massive negative impact on South African citizens in the future, and the economically disadvantaged will suffer the most. It is the government's responsibility to do everything in its power to prevent this.	Rebecca	Western Cape		employed individual
	2025-08-15 10:00:50	Yes I do	climate change	If anything we need to be stricter and go further. Climate Change is a far bigger problem and government needs to do far more to keep themselves and corporations in check. In practice, fines only mean it's legal for rich people/companies to do a thing, not that it's illegal. Companies, and the individuals employed by these companies who make the choice to undermine the laws on these matters have to be punished so severely for infractions that it means their business has to close the doors. It needs to be something that executives actually fear.	Sara

	2025-08-06 07:24:29	Not fully	climate change	Climate scientists have been making predictions about disasters since the 1950's. None of those predictions have come true to date. If you believed them, we would all be starving and fighting wars over water. If you look at the actual data, instead of listening to the alarmists, you will see that our planet is not experiencing record highs in temperatures, nor is our weather getting worse, we are simply reporting it better. Carbon dioxide is also not as effective a greenhouse gas as is being said, based on actual research. I refuse to support a bill that will neuter our struggling economy based on unscientific goals. We cannot let our country be dictated by an imaginary threat like this. If you want to improve air quality around power stations and around Sasol's plants, I can support that, but trying to cut carbon emissions unilaterally serves no purpose, based on the evidence from the UN's own 2500 page climate report, and it will damage our economy. We should be improving our economy, not destroying it. Get rid of BEE, stop antagonising the rest of the world and ruining our trade relationships and start delivering services.	Renier	Western Cape

	2025-08-22 10:01:51	Not fully	Other	Climate change is a serious concern. Proponents against climate change are either the genuine 'anti-science cult, or the greedy, who are fully aware of the effects of their industry on climate but campaign against regulations which would affect their profits (follow the money). So an information program should be put in place for the undecided to make an informed decision. Any regulations must be sensible and proportional. Lack of full support stems from a government that has been proved corrupt, irredeemable, and any legislation implemented is likely to be for personal corrupt gain.	Chris	Gauteng
	2025-09-12 12:40:22	Not fully	Other	I strongly oppose the Draft Carbon Budget Regulations and demand they be reworked. They promote a top-down, centralised state bureaucracy, which directly contradicts the community-led principles mentioned in the Just Transition Framework. These regulations are unacceptable for the following reasons: Abolish Mandatory Carbon Budgets: The state should not dictate production limits to private companies with threats of fines and jail time. Replace this coercive system with market-based incentives that encourage innovation. Implement Genuine Decentralisation: A just transition must be driven from the ground up, not by Pretoria. Power and resources should be devolved to local communities to manage their own transitions, as suggested by the principle of procedural justice. Prioritise Economic Freedom: A truly just transition respects the freedom of individuals and businesses to adapt. This top-down approach will stifle the economy and harm the very communities it claims to help. The proposed regulations are a move towards authoritarianism, not justice. They must be withdrawn and replaced with a framework built on freedom, local control, and individual responsibility.	Simeon	Gauteng		self-employed
